NC STATE REPRESENTATIVE RICK GLAZIER PARTICIPATES WITH EDUCATION POLICY MAKERS AND WALLACE FOUNDATION

RALEIGH - NC State Representative Rick Glazier (D-Cumberland) has been invited to participate as one of 400 senior-level national policymakers, practitioners and researchers by the Wallace Foundation and the National Conference of State Legislatures in the Foundation's fourth national conference on Education Leadership: An Agenda for School Improvement to be held in Washington DC on October 14-16, 2009.

For the past nine years, The Wallace Foundation, one of the nation's largest private nonprofit supporters of public education, has commissioned research and collaborated with selected states and districts to respond to key unanswered questions about education leadership. The Foundation's work has helped define essential elements of education leadership, improve the training of principals and superintendents, and provide leaders with the policies, incentives and job conditions they need to enact to help raise student achievement on a wide scale, particularly in high poverty areas.

The Foundation, nationally recognized today for its involvement in educational and cultural programs, traces its origins back a half century to the philanthropic impulses of DeWitt and Lila Acheson Wallace, founders of The Reader's Digest Association. Rep. Glazier is serving his 4th term in the General Assembly. He represents District 45.
